

“Breaking barriers and building lives, one step at a time.”

The Cornerstone Project

We hope everyone had a wonderful time during the holiday season!

We welcome back our current participants from our winter break and we are excited to get busy with our different projects in the center with each of you!

During the month of January, we will focus on our body lotions, body wash, candles, and body scrubs. We intend to have these items on our website for sale between mid to late January.

One of our participants mentioned that they would like for us to include lip gloss and lip balm as part of the products that we create at our center. We are grateful for the input and idea! And we will absolutely add these items to our line of products that we make in our center. Additionally, we have done some preliminary experimenting with transferring photographs to canvas and also to wood. This has proven to be a lovely project and we hope to make it available to customers in February for special ordering. We have tons of ideas and things that we want to try to create. I'm quite excited to bring news of each as we progress.

We begin our official volunteering work schedule at WARM this month. I believe this will be a wonderful opportunity for our participants to have access to learning/maintaining current skills, socialization with others of the general community, to engage in physical activity, and to help those in need.

I am pleased that we are able to resume our visits to SkyZone this month. We have great fun there!

We have openings for 6 more participants at our current location. Please forward our information to any interested person that is need of Adult Day Habilitation Services.

Stay Warm!!!!

Kindest Regards,
